To ensure that data are collected and posted in a timely manner, the Chair of the Office of Technology, Assessment, and Compliance has developed a key assessment blueprint for administrators, faculty, staff, and candidates that assure postings by clearly delineated deadlines, typically set up on a semester basis.

For analysis ofoutcomesdata, Directors and Program Chairsperiodically review OA data during regular faculty meetings and share as needed with adjunct faculty vieworty Committees. Recommendations and/or other direct and indirect measures to assess the need for change and "closing the loop" are shared at designated college meetings. Major changes/findings/recommendatione also reported the Office of the Deanwhoin turn reports annually on Outcomes Assessment to Academic Affairs. Protended meetings include OA findings/recommendationed least twice annually; one in the fall to review spring data and one in the spring to review the previous fall data. In addition, Chairs may also present any significant findings or changes resulting from OA to their respective Program Advisory Committees.

The Dean routinely reviews Course Evaluation Forms, Institutional Reports, GPA reports, and survey findings to assess the College level performance. The Dean also reviews the collated reports prepared by the OA Designee.

Beginning with AY24/25,Outcomes Assessment will biscluded on the College's monthly meetingagenda. This standinggenda item willallow Chairs to present "closing the loop" information and for discussion of the OA process. Outcomes findings or recommendations will also be placed on the CollegeTeamssite. During the summer of the acadenyicar, the college holds an annual "closing the loop" meeting with various stakeholders; Directors, Chairs, Adjunct Faculty, Advisory Board Members, and representatives from school districts and the Delaware Department of Education.

Annually, the Deanpresents the data and findings, including any examples of closing the loop," for the college at an annual Academic Affairs Outcomes Summit. Each college presents as summary of the OA process for the year. During this OA Summit, there is also discussion about the OA process.

Program Review

Academic programs at Wilmington University currently complete a Three Program Reviewprocess. Since our mission is to provide relevant curricula and cariemed degree programs, and in response to the changing external environment, the program review process now includes One-Year Program Snapshots which specifically look at factors pertaining to enrollment, retention, and graduation.

Certain programs, however, are accredited or approved by an external agency which may require a different timetable. Programs undergoing the University's -Three Program Review process are to include a section that reflects an aggregate of assessmenths sast program review was held.
